Comments: We support the AEMC conducting this review, and are particularly supportive of AEMC investigating whether actionability of the ISP can be improved. Looking at the Finkel review recommendations quoted by the AEMC in the consultation paper, it appears that the delivery framework envisaged by the Finkel Review has not been fully realised yet, particularly with a formalised evaluation framework to guide where "governments could support if the market is unable to deliver the investment required to enable the development of renewable energy zones". We look forward to engaging further in the AEMC's review as it develops.
