Comments: I do not support the proposal to charge households with rooftop solar to export to the grid.

It is not as if we have a choice as to who we are connected to.

The suppliers are monopolies - it's not as if we can take our business elsewhere if we do not like what they are offering.

It will also have a negative impact on the environment. It will not be long before we will all be working towards massively reduced carbon emission targets and solar has a big role to play.

If the network needs to be improved so be it - it can be funded through the organisations' profits and tax payer funds.
